MANAGEMENT INFORMATION CIRCULAR

Solicitation of Proxies

This management information circular is furnished in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the management of TSODILO RESOURCES LIMITED (the “Corporation”) for use at the Annual Meeting of Shareholders (the “Meeting”) of the Corporation to be held at the time and place and for the purposes set forth in the accompanying Notice of Annual Meeting. References in this management information circular (the “Circular”) to the Meeting include any adjournment thereof. It is expected that the solicitation will be primarily by mail, but proxies may also be solicited personally by regular employees of the Corporation. The cost of solicitation will be borne by the Corporation. In fiscal year ended March 31, 2005, the Company’s reporting currency was changed to United States dollars and all amounts stated are in United States dollars unless otherwise stated. Commencing April 1, 2005 the Company’s functional currency became the United States Dollar. During the third quarter, the board decided that it was in the best interests of the Company to change its financial year end from March 31 to December 31 effective December 31, 2005. The change in financial year to December 31 was made to align with the reporting schedule of comparable public companies. The year ended December 31, 2005 is the transitional year and has a nine month reporting period. Except where otherwise stated, the information set forth herein is given as of December 31, 2007.

Appointment and Revocation of Proxies

The persons named in the enclosed form of proxy are officers of the Corporation. A shareholder wishing to appoint some other person, who need not be a shareholder, to represent the shareholder at the Meeting may do so by inserting such person's name in the blank space provided in the enclosed form of proxy or by completing another proper form of proxy. To be valid, proxies must be deposited with the Corporation's transfer agent at the address indicated on the enclosed envelope not later than the close of business on the business day preceding the day of the Meeting, or with the Chairman of the Meeting immediately prior to the commencement of the Meeting, otherwise the instrument of proxy will be invalid.

A proxy given pursuant to this solicitation may be revoked by instrument in writing, including another proxy bearing a later date, executed by the shareholder or by the shareholder’s attorney authorized in writing and deposited either at the registered office of the Corporation or its transfer agent at any time up to and including the last business day preceding the date of the Meeting or with the Chairman of the Meeting on the date of the Meeting or in any other manner permitted by law.

Exercise of Discretion by Proxies

The persons named in the enclosed form of proxy will vote the shares in respect of which they are appointed in accordance with the direction of the shareholders appointing them. In the absence of such direction, such shares will be voted in favor of the passing of all the resolutions described below. The enclosed form of proxy confers discretionary authority upon the persons named therein with respect to amendments or variations to matters identified in the Notice of Annual Meeting and with respect to other matters which may properly come before the Meeting. At the time of printing of this Circular, management knows of no such amendments, variations or other matters to come before the Meeting. However, if any other matters, which are not now known to management, should properly come before the Meeting, the proxy will be voted on such matters in accordance with the best judgment of the named proxies.

Voting by Non-Registered Shareholders

Only registered shareholders or the persons they appoint as their proxies are permitted to vote at the Meeting. However, in many cases, shares of the Corporation are beneficially owned by non-registered shareholders who hold their shares through a nominee such as a bank, trust company or securities broker, or through a clearing agency, such as Canadian Depository for Securities Limited (or CDS), in which the nominee is a participant.

Under Canadian securities laws, nominees are required to seek voting instructions from non-registered shareholders, unless the shareholder has waived the right to receive proxy materials. Generally, nominees will send to their non-registered shareholders either a request for voting instructions or a proxy form, to permit the non-registered shareholders to vote their shares.

Each nominee has its own procedures that must be carefully followed. If a non-registered shareholder wishes to vote at the Meeting by proxy, the non-registered shareholder must follow the instructions of their nominee, including those regarding when and where the voting instructions or proxy form is to be delivered. If a non-registered shareholder wishes to vote at the Meeting in person, the non-registered shareholder should appoint themselves as a proxy-holder by striking out the printed name in the request for voting instructions or proxy form and inserting their own name in the space provided, and otherwise following the instructions of their nominee.

The Compensation Committee also reviews the recommendations submitted by the Chief Executive Officer with respect to the compensation of other senior officers of the Corporation.

In establishing compensation for executive officers, the Compensation Committee takes into consideration individual performance, responsibilities, length of service and levels of compensation provided by industry competitors. Such compensation is composed primarily of three components; namely, base salary, the granting of stock options and the awarding of performance bonuses. The Compensation Committee recommends guidelines for the SOP and, in consultation with the Chief Executive Officer, reviews the options granted to the Corporation's executives and board members. Performance bonuses are considered from time to time having regard to the Corporation's objectives. No definitive and pre-determined bonus arrangement was entered into in the preceding fiscal years.

The compensation which has been awarded for the upcoming fiscal year is believed to be comparable to compensation of other executives of other companies in the similar pursuit of diamond reserves and production.

Although senior management have extensive experience in the diamond mining industry, the Board encourages senior management to participate in appropriate professional and personal development activities, courses and programs and the expenses associated with these activities are paid by the Corporation. Further, the Board supports management's commitment to the training and development of all permanent employees.

The Board currently comprises five members of which four are considered unrelated directors. The Board reviews the factual circumstances and relevant relationships of each of the directors. The three unrelated directors provide no services, other than as directors, to the Corporation and maintain no other relationship with the Corporation and are therefore unrelated directors.

The mandate of the Chairman of the Board includes reviewing the performance of the Board and each of its committees and recruitment and nomination of new directors to the Board. Further, the Corporation believes that the nature of the relationships of its related directors would not adversely affect their independence or ability to act in the best interest of the Corporation.

The Chairman of the Board annually reviews the membership and chairs of the Board committees, as well as the mandates and activities of each committee, and makes such recommendations to the Board arising out of such review, as he deems appropriate. The Corporation believes that the Board members are qualified as directors and represent the various disciplines necessary for the proper governance of the Corporation.

The Corporation currently has an informal orientation program for new members of the Board. The Board regularly invites senior operating management to attend at Board meetings to report on their respective business unit activities, and Board meetings are periodically organized to include tours of the Corporation's facilities which permit the Board to participate in a detailed first hand review of the Corporation's activities. In addition, there are periodic social events organized by the Corporation where the Board can interact with senior management.

As of the date of this Management Information Circular, the Board is composed of five members. The Board has reviewed its size and, having regard for the international scope of its operations, has concluded that the number of directors of the Corporation is efficient and effective, given the size and scope of the Corporation's operations. The Board, as presently constituted, brings together a mix of skills, background, ages and attitudes that the Board considers appropriate to the stewardship of the Corporation. In particular, the Board represents many years of experience in the diamond exploration / mining industry as well as legal and corporate finance experience. The mandate of the Chairman of the Board includes the consideration of size and composition of the Board.

The Board has responsibility for the stewardship of the Corporation and specifically for: (i) providing input and guidance on and approving the strategic plan and business objectives developed by senior management and overseeing management's implementation of the strategic plan; (ii) considering the principal risks of the business based on regular business reports prepared by senior management and based on the Audit Committee's review of the findings of the external auditors; (iii) assessing the performance of, and developing a succession plan for, the Chief Executive Officer; and (iv) reviewing the ongoing sufficiency and integrity of the Corporation's internal control, financial reporting and management information systems with management and the Corporation's external auditors. In addition to the specific responsibilities enumerated above, the Board is responsible for the supervision of management of the business but not the day-to-day operations, which are the responsibility of the Chief Executive Officer. The Board will also consider those matters that are brought to it by the Chief Executive Officer that, as noted below, are deemed to be material matters. During fiscal year 2007, the Board met formally in person once and over the period passed four (4) resolutions.

The Chief Executive Officer is specifically charged with the responsibility for managing the strategic and operational agenda of the Corporation and for the execution of the directives and policies of the Board. The roles and responsibilities of the Chief Executive Officer include, among other things:

- (vi) having the responsibility for the employment, compensation, job descriptions, performance assessment, leadership development and succession planning of human resources;
- (vii) representing the Corporation to its major shareholders, including investment and financial communities, governments, joint venture partners and the public;
- (viii) bringing the following material decisions to the Board for their review and approval:

- (B) acquisition or initiation of a new business or undertaking or the assumption of any commitment, obligation or liability other than in the ordinary and normal course of business;

 - (F) any transaction, contract, agreement, undertaking or arrangement with a person with whom the Corporation does not act at arm's length; and
 - (G) any other transaction, contract, agreement, undertaking, commitment or arrangement, not in the ordinary and normal course of business which is or would be material in relation to the Corporation; and
- (ix) presenting to the Board any material business issues resulting from communications with shareholders.

The Chairman of the Board assumes the following role and responsibilities:

- (i) managing the affairs of the Board and monitoring its effectiveness;
- (ii) managing meetings of the Board by ensuring that meaningful agendas are prepared and guiding the deliberations of the Board so that appropriate strategic and policy decisions are made;
- (iii) setting the agenda for meetings of the Board and ensuring that all matters of strategic importance are being dealt with at the Board level during the course of the year; and
- (iv) participating in consultation with other members of the Board in the selection of candidates to be submitted to the Board for appointment as new directors.

The Board has appointed an unrelated director as Chairman of the Board. All members of the Board are free to add items to the agenda, either before or during the meetings, or to request the calling of Board meetings where deemed necessary and all members of the Board are invited to raise issues not on the agenda at Board meetings. In fiscal 2007, one formal Board meeting was held. Advance notice is provided, and directors are requested to provide any agenda items they feel should be considered at the meeting. A total of four resolutions dealing with standard matters were also circulated and approved by the Board. In addition, Board members are periodically advised in informal conferences of developments involving the Corporation and asked to advise on such developments.

The Board has on occasion met without management present and engages in frank and open discussion concerning the Corporation and management both in the presence of management and in their absence. If the Board believed it was appropriate and meaningful, it would formalize the process by which the Board would meet without management and for handling the Board's overall relationship with management.

The Audit Committee is composed of three directors, Mr. Patrick McGinley (Chairman) and Messrs. R. Stuart Angus and John R. Redmond, of which all three are unrelated directors. The Compensation Committee is composed of three directors, James M. Bruchs (Chairman) and Messrs. Patrick McGinley and R. Stuart Angus. The Corporate Governance Committee is composed of three directors, Mr. R. Stuart Angus (Chairman) and Messrs. Patrick McGinley and Jonathan R. Kelafant. These committees are considered by the Board to be adequate, together with the Board, to ensure proper governance of the Corporation and supervision of management.

The Audit Committee has primary responsibility for ensuring the integrity of the Corporation's financial reporting, risk management and internal controls. The committee has unrestricted access to the Corporation's personnel and documents and has direct communication channels with the Corporation's external auditors in order to discuss audit and related matters whenever appropriate. The Audit Committee receives and reviews the annual financial statements of the Corporation and makes recommendations thereon to the Board prior to their approval by the full Board. The Audit Committee also reviews the scope and planning of the external audit, the form of the audit report and any correspondence from or comments by the external auditors regarding financial reporting and internal controls. The Audit Committee is responsible for correcting weaknesses identified by the external auditors with respect to the internal control systems and for ensuring that the recommended corrections had been implemented.

The Chairman of the Board reviews and approves the design and administration of all compensation and benefit plans and policies for the Corporation's Board. The Compensation Committee reviews and approves the design and administration of all compensation and benefit plans and policies for the Corporation's senior management. Management periodically provides surveys of the marketplace and reports on its consultations with experts to the Compensation Committee. Directors' compensation is fixed by the Chairman of the Board, in consultation with the Board, at competitive levels with due consideration to the periodic changes in the levels of responsibility assigned to members of the Board.

The Corporate Governance Committee expressly assumes responsibility for developing the Corporation's approach to corporate governance issues and monitoring compliance with the Corporation's stated governance policies.

In the appropriate circumstances, the Board will approve the engagement of an outside advisor by an individual director at the expense of the Corporation.
